14 OCTOBER 1976

THE UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA CONFERENCE ON LITERACY

In response to the growing concern about literacy, the Department of English has convened The University of Alberta Conference on Literacy to be held 22 and 23 October. The project has received encouraging moral and financial support from several jurisdictions in the University community including eleven faculties, the Vice-President (Academic), the Conference Fund, and the Department of English itself. In addition, the two Edmonton School Boards and a number of business agencies in the province have given financial support.

The purpose of the conference is to determine what joint action needs to be taken by government, schools, and universities and to bring forward an understanding of the roles and relationships of these institutions. The whole subject of literacy will be explored in four major lectures by renowned specialists and informed speakers. There will also be a series of seminar workshops dealing with practical and provocative subjects.

Most delegates will be teachers of English and the language arts in the secondary school system and professors of English and Education from universities across Canada. However, other interested persons are invited to register for the conference subject to space considerations. The registration fee is $5 and there is an entertainment fee of $10 which entitles each delegate to attend the conference banquet and two receptions. Registration forms are available from R.J. Merrett, Department of English, telephone 432-2179.

Below is the agenda for The University of Alberta Conference on Literacy. All academic sessions will be held in the Humanities Centre.

Friday, 22 October

8:30 a.m. Registration. HC L-1.

McKill, HC 2-7; "Creative writing," with speaker John Orrell, HC 2-25; "Use and abuse of audio-visual material," with speaker Irene Hargreaves, HC 2-11; and

APPOINTMENT

Kenneth W. Lemke has been appointed Chairman of the Department of Accounting. Professor Lemke obtained a Bachelor of Commerce degree in 1961 from the University of Queensland and a Master of Commerce in 1966 from the University of Newcastle. After his Bachelor's degree, he was a Lecturer in Commerce at the University of Newcastle, and in 1966 he became a Senior Lecturer in Accounting and Finance at Macquarie University in Sydney, Australia. In 1970 he spent a year here as a Visiting Professor and in 1972 accepted a position as Professor of Accounting in the Faculty of Business Administration and Commerce. Prior to entering the academic life, Professor Lemke worked as a company secretary for an Australian wholesaler and foodstuffs manufacturer and before that he worked for five years as an accountant. Throughout his career, Professor Lemke has received many honors and has published on a wide range of subjects related to accounting.

"Reading and writing as performing arts," with speaker J. Marino, HC 2-21.

In addition there will be book displays with material on language arts, professional texts and Canadian literature, and a presentation by ACCESS Alberta.

SAVE 42,500 TREES

The following notice was received from W.S. Larsen, Manager of Building Services, Physical Plant.

Staff and students at the University of Alberta last year collected and contributed almost one million pounds of waste paper for recycling, or an average of 40 tons per month. This effort was accomplished through both individual contributions and organized collection programs in campus buildings.

The market for all grades of waste paper collected for recycling is improving considerably. Staff and students are urged to participate fully to enable the University to collect all salvageable paper on campus. Conservatively estimated, the campus potential is 2,500 tons of recyclable waste paper per year; in other words, we are collecting only twenty percent of that potential.

Some statistics pertaining to waste paper are interesting. For example, —one ton of paper consumes the pulp of seventeen average size trees. —one half of Edmonton's solid waste is paper. —in the course of a month a household collects an average of 28 pounds of newsprint.

Anyone requiring assistance or information about the University's waste paper collection program is asked to contact Building Services, Department of Physical Plant, telephone 432-5224. Containers for recyclable paper are located throughout University buildings, and a large recycling bin is located just west of Athabasca Hall.

NOTICES

PSYCHOLOGISTS' ASSOCIATION OF ALBERTA

The Psychologists' Association of Alberta will conduct a workshop entitled Reality Therapy Applied to Family Living with Richard M. Hawes on 27 October in the Chateau Lacombe. The Association's 1976 conference, The Psychologist in the Community, will be held from 29 to 31 October in Calgary. For further information about the conference or workshop telephone P.A. Brown of the Association, 432-5618.

STUDENT RESEARCH DAY

The following notice has been received from P. Bowen, Coordinator of the Faculty of Medicine's Ninth Annual Student Research Day.

Each year a number of students in the Faculty of Medicine are introduced to research by working in conjunction with a faculty member on a summer research project. A selected group of abstracts are presented on Student Research Day to the faculty and student body. This year Student Research Day will be held on Tuesday, 19 October, in 2-117, Clinical Sciences Building, and presentations will commence at 9 a.m.

A panel of three judges, one of whom is always an outstanding Canadian scientist from another university, selects the three top papers. This year the visiting judge is William M. Thurlbeck, Professor and Head, Department of Pathology, Faculty of Medicine, the University of Manitoba.

The students whose projects have been selected are sent the the following year to the National Student Research Forum at the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston, Texas.

CAMPUS LAW REVIEW COMMITTEE MEETING

The Campus Law Review Committee will meet on Friday, 22 October, at 2 p.m. in 3-17 University Hall. Discussion will concern amendments to Procedures for Discipline, Law and Order Tribunals. Anyone wishing to make a written or personal submission should give notice of such intention to L. Plaskitt, 1-15 University Hall, telephone 432-4715, by 19 October.

EDMONTON FUTURE SOCIETY MEETING

The Edmonton Future Society will meet on Thursday, 14 October, at 7:30 p.m. in 2-115

Education North. A film on future shock will be shown and discussion will follow. All persons interested in discussing the future are invited to attend. For further information contact A. Meyers, telephone 432-3668.

ALBERTA-HOKKAIDO GYMNASTICS EXCHANGE

The Department of Athletic Services, in conjunction with the Alberta Gymnastics Federation, will be host to the Alberta-Hokkaido Gymnastics Exchange. As part of the exchange two Japanese coaches will visit the University for eighteen days, and there will be a clinic on training methods on 15 October from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. in E-05 of the Physical Education Complex. All students and staff interested in training and conditioning are welcome to the clinics as well as to the daily practice sessions. For further information telephone S. Hartley, 434-7635.

NON-CREDIT COURSES

AIRPHOTO INTERPRETATION

The Faculty of Extension is offering an evening
Airphoto Interpretation course beginning 3 November. The course has been designed to outline the basic principles, techniques, and applications of airphoto interpretation. It will provide an opportunity for engineers, earth scientists, planners, life scientists, and other professionals to learn to identify landforms in stereo.

The course will emphasize the identification, composition, and origin of various glacial and post-glacial landforms throughout Canada and landforms that have developed in permafrost regions of northern Canada. The relationship of landforms to other aspects of the environment and to economic development will be discussed.

The manual for the course will be Landforms and Surface Materials of Canada. The cost of this manual is $40 and is included in the registration fee of $150. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall and additional information is available by calling 432-5532.

WRITING TERM PAPERS AND ESSAYS

For the second year, the Students' Union will be offering a lecture series in writing term papers and essays. The series will be given by L. McKill, Professor of English.

The dates for the courses are 18, 20, 25 and 27 October and 1 and 3 November. All lectures will be held from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. in 2-115 Education North. Although there is no charge and no registration, the lectures are run on a "first come first serve" basis. For more information on the content of the course telephone 432-4236 or consult one of the posters that has been placed around campus.

POWER PIPING DESIGN

An evening course on Power Piping Design is being offered this fall beginning 2 November.
The course is intended for junior design engineers in the process, power, and nuclear engineering fields. It will be assumed that the registrants have a basic training in mechanical engineering or design.

Major topics to be covered include descriptions and purpose of piping systems in power stations; a discussion of local, provincial and industry codes; pipe selection and joining techniques; and stress analysis methods for piping systems.

Registrations for this course are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $60. Additional information is available by calling 432-5532.

N.A.C.E. CORROSION PREVENTION BY COATINGS

For the first time in Canada, the N.A.C.E.
course 5 on Corrosion Prevention by Coatings will be offered. The course is sponsored by the National Association of Corrosion Engineers and the Faculty of Extension from 1 to 5 November. Course 5 is an intermediate level course and is open to any interested persons but is specially designed for those who wish to qualify for accreditation as a Senior Corrosion Technologist.

Course topics will include an introduction to coatings and corrosion, coating selection factors, the coating system, natural organic and metallic systems, synthetic organic systems, surface preparation, coating application, testing and defects in coatings, and typical applications.

Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $300 for N.A.C.E. members and $350 for non-members. The fee includes text, all required materials, final exam for certificate, and lunches. The course is limited to twenty-five participants. Additional information and brochures are available by calling 432-3037.

Richard Kerr

The University's Campus Development Office, in keeping with principles and policies established by the Long Range Landscape Development Plan, has been implementing an exterior campus signage system. The system has three phases and consists of signage to direct pedestrians, name buildings, and direct vehicles.

Phase I, Directing Pedestrians, involves the installation of information panels that include a campus map and space for an events calendar. This phase is now essentially complete except for two units, which will be installed in the 1977-78 Paving and Grounds Program. Phase II, Building Name Signage, is being implemented and will continue into the 1977-78 academic year. The photograph above shows an example of this new signage located south of the Civil and Electrical Engineering Building.

Phase III, Vehicle Directional Signage, is being planned and some implementation should occur this fall. This phase will involve installation of signs at selected locations around the campus periphery to announce the University of Alberta. In addition, signs will be erected to direct vehicles to parking areas and information centres. The University, the University Hospital, the Jubilee Auditorium, and the City of Edmonton are working toward coordinating their signage systems.

Applications Analyst ($1,000-$1,239)—Chemistry
